I-340 — Use of Terms Suggesting Kingdom Patronage

Language which suggests Kingdom sponsorship or sanction of an event, guild, household, or other organization (such as “Northshield”, “Kingdom”, Titles of Kingdom Officers and their deputies etc.) requires Stallari approval.

I-341 — Stallari Permission for use of terms suggesting Kingdom Patronage

The Stallari Council reserves the right to grant perpetual permission to local events to use terms identified in section I-340 above in event names. Stallari Council further reserves the right to rescind that permission for cause. This permission does not equate to these events being “Kingdom Events” as defined in section I-350 below, nor is it intended to suggest or grant Kingdom sanction or sponsorship of these events.

I-345 Use of Terms Suggesting Royal Patronage

Language which implies Royal patronage (such as “Royal” or “Their Majesty’s/Highness” or “King’s/Queen’s/Prince’s/Princess’ ”) of an event, guild, household, or other organization requires the permission of the person who holds (or will hold) these titles. This will not imply Kingdom patronage or make an event subject to the requirements of a Kingdom Event. The future use of these titles cannot be presumed and are not ongoing.

I-350 Kingdom Events

Known World Events are defined in Society Seneschal’s Handbook.

Kingdom Events are defined as events which are critical to the maintenance of the realm such as Crown or Coronation, or events that further Kingdom goals and have direct support and oversight of a Kingdom officer(s). Kingdom Events always require a bid to be presented to the Stallari Council as outlined in Northshield Policies. Language which suggests Kingdom sponsorship or sanction of an event such as use of the terms “Kingdom”, or “Northshield”, will occur as part of the bid process.

Any event that does not fit these definitions is defined as a local event.

I-355 Reserved Weekends

The weekend starting with the second Saturday of every month is reserved for Kingdom Events. Groups wishing to hold local events on the weekend containing the second Saturday may apply to the Kingdom Seneschal for Stallari Council approval.

I-360 — Conflicting with Kingdom Events

The Kingdom Event Information Officer will not allow any official SCA event within Northshield on the same day as Crown Tournament or Coronation. The Crown, after consultation with the Stallari Council, may give express permission for local events to occur on the same day as other Kingdom events.

Kingdom Law

I-400

The word of the Crown is law subject only to the Order of Precedence of Law established in the Governing Documents, and those restrictions found in the statutory law of the Kingdom.

I-500

There will be three classes of Kingdom law. These will be statutory law, Royal proclamation and Royal edict.

I-600

Statutory law will be the continuing body of law in the Kingdom. The Crown will have power to change, repeal or add statute only after in consultation with the Stallari Council, provided that the change, repeal or addition does not conflict with any superior laws as established by the Order of Precedence of Law in the Governing Documents.

I-700

Should the majority of the quorum of the Stallari Council believe a change to statutory law to be substantive, the Crown must publish the proposed law change in the Northwatch and allow one month from publication for comment before proceeding. When necessary to comply with a Society directive, the period for comment may be shortened, postponed, or cancelled.

I-800

Changes to statutory law must be signed by the Crown and the Kingdom Seneschal, proclaimed in Royal court, and published in the Northwatch before taking effect.

I-900

A Royal proclamation is defined as a lawful command of the Crown, and has the force of statute for the duration of the reign in which it is proclaimed. A proclamation must be announced in Royal court and published in the Northwatch before taking effect. A proclamation cannot contradict statutory law.

I-1000

A Royal edict is defined as a lawful command of the Crown and has the force of statutory law for the duration of the event at which it is proclaimed. The Crown must be present at the event, and the edict must be announced in Royal court at that event. An edict cannot contradict statutory law.

ARTICLE II—THE ROYALTY OF NORTHSHIELD

II-100

The rights, duties and powers of the Crown rest equally and jointly with the Sovereign and the Consort.

II-200

The powers of the Crown extend only to the affairs of the Kingdom, and do not extend to matters of modern times.

II-300

No member of the Royalty may apply for or hold another Kingdom-level, Society, or Corporate office during their reign.

The populace will be notified of the location and date of the alternate event prior to the originally scheduled tournament. This event does not need to be within six weeks of Coronation as per III-1400.

III-500

The Presiding Royalty will devise the format of the Crown Tournament, including any further restrictions upon entrants and their consorts. This information will then be published in the Northwatch at least six weeks prior to the Crown Tournament. Pairings may be decided randomly or seeded by prior contests of skill, but no person or group may specifically designate pairings, except the combatants through challenge.

III-600

All prospective combatants in the Crown Tournament must first affirm that they and their consort understand and are prepared to accept the Crown's responsibilities, as defined by the Governing Documents and Kingdom law.

III-900

All prospective combatants and their consorts must meet the minimum criteria in the Governing Documents, as well as the following requirements:

III-1000

Prospective competitors must send to the Presiding Royalty a letter expressing their intent to compete. The letter should provide evidence of fulfillment of any requirements for entrance by the prospective combatant and consort and outline their involvement in diverse areas of the SCA, as the Heir and Heir's Consort may require. The Presiding Royalty will insure that necessary information concerning eligibility is provided to the Kingdom Seneschal for verification.

III-1100

1. The Presiding Royalty may refuse entrance to prospective combatants or their consorts for reasonable cause.
2. The Presiding Royalty must state the reason for the refusal to the Crown, the Kingdom Seneschal, and to those whom they refuse entrance in a timely manner. A reasonable attempt will be made to provide the reason for the refusal, in writing, at least two weeks before the Crown Tournament.

2. A seneschal and a herald of Northshield must attend, to witness the tournament.

III-1250

IV-200

If the Sovereign is unable to fulfill the duties of the Sovereign as defined in the Governing Documents and Kingdom law, the Consort will then be designated as Sovereign.

IV-300

If both the Sovereign and the Consort are unable to fulfill the duties of the Crown, the Heir and Heir's Consort will be proclaimed Regents and will fulfill the duties of the Crown until Their Coronation, at which time They will be crowned by the senior Royal Peer in attendance who is a subject of Northshield.

IV-400
